

Phone Call between JD Smith and KP Yohannan

July 15, 2014

J: OK, Sorry about that.

K: Yeah, sorry JD. I meant to call you I just got in late last night. So...

J: Oh, no worries.

K: JD, I got your email, thank you. I'll ask you a question. And we are sending you our detailed answer to all the questions.

J: Ok, I appreciate that. Yeah, I felt that any meeting would be unproductive if we didn't really know where to start from.

K: No problem. Listen JD, talk to Chrissy, if you're willing to work it out you're welcome to come to January in India. We're going to have our church's general assembly and some 7,000 people gathering from all the Asian countries. Where you can see the church and what we do, you know, you spent enough of your life with us and um you know, I thought a lot about it last night. Some of the brothers, I think, and sisters are still with us like you. I don't want them to feel like outsiders. I just wanted to let you know about that also. But we are writing, I'm talking to the man about everything you asked.

J: Yeah, OK. I appreciate that. I just feel like, I'd like to address the issues at hand first.

K: Yeah, yeah. All right JD, thanks again. Blessings on you.

J: OK. I look forward to getting your response this week. Thank you.

K: Thank you my brother. Bye.

J: All right. Talk to you. Bye-bye.
